

RHINO TAG/RHINO RESEARCH COUNCILWednesday, March 29*9:30 am – 5:30 pm*Room 301CD

9:30 am – 10:00 am

SSP Updates - White, Black, and GOH Rhinos

- Adam Eyres, Fossil Rim Wildlife Center

10:00 am – 11:15 am

To Mulch or Not To Mulch...

- Leigh Ramon, Mesker Park Zoo and Botanic Garden

Treatment of a Severe Corneal Ulceration in the Eye of a White Rhino Calf

- Jessica Scallan, Tulsa Zoo

Managing GOH Rhino Productivity: Interbirth Interval and its Implications for Population Growth

- Cody Cseplo, The Wilds

11:15 am – 12:00 pm

State of the Rhino

- Nina Fascione, International Rhino Foundation

1:00 pm – 1:45 pm

Updates from RRC Disciplines

- Terri Roth, Katie Sullivan, Jessye Wojtusik, Adam Eyres

1:45 pm – 3:00 pm

Less Is More: Finding New Ways to Evaluate Rhinoceros Samples

- Elizabeth Donelan, CREW/Cincinnati Zoo

*Metabolomic Profiling Implicates Mitochondrial Dysfunction in Disease Syndromes of the Critically Endangered Black Rhinoceros (Diceros bicornis)*

- Molly Corder, Smithsonian's National Zoo and Conservation Biology Institute

Nutrition Research for Rhinoceros Health: Minerals in Focus

- Katie Sullivan, Disney's Animal Kingdom

3:00 pm – 3:15 pm BREAK

3:15 pm – 4:00 pm

Updates on AIRS Project

- Terri Roth, Parker Pennington, Gina Ferrie, American Institute of Rhinoceros Sciences (AIRS)

4:00 pm – 5:15 pm

Semen Collection from Rhinoceros During Standing Sedation

- Jessye Wojtusik, Omaha's Henry Doorly Zoo

Update on Project Activities Under the Institute of Museum and Library Services National Leadership RARE Grant

- Jessye Wojtusik (behalf M. Stoops), Omaha's Henry Doorly Zoo

"Let's Talk About Rhino Sperm": Further Info on AIRS Reproduction Pillar Activities

- Louisa Rispoli, CREW/Cincinnati Zoo

5:15 pm – 5:30 pm

Closing - Yay We Made It!

- Adam Eyres, Fossil Rim Wildlife Center